Modern production line with high efficiency

ARPANEL is a system that combines current trends in construction and design with the knowledge and many years of experience of our team. It is the work of top-class specialists.

ARPANEL is not just about sandwich panels. It is a complete lightweight cladding system, the result of more than 20 years' experience in the design and construction of industrial buildings, supported by an in-depth analysis of the needs and expectations placed on the European market by today's customers.
